

Job Title

Experienced Structural Engineer

Job Location:

Lockerbie with Site Visits Nationwide

Salary:

Expected to be circa £25k - £35k based on experience

Job Description

Robinsons Scotland Ltd, established in 2005, is a family run company manufacturing Agricultural & Commercial Buildings. Through an ongoing program of investment in people and equipment the organisation continues to enjoy a high rate of growth year on year. The Company now requires an experienced Structural Engineer to contribute to the development of the company.

Our expectations

- to be able to complete structural designs, specifications of Steel Framed Agricultural buildings;
- design shutter Concrete walls and tanks;
- produce full calculations for Building Warrant & SER's Certificate (if applicable);
- investigate on site ground conditions and inspections of work;
- liaise with other designers; to agree on safe designs;
- ensure health and safety requirements are adhered to at all times in accordance with laid down company procedures and legislation;
- be well organised with attention to detail and a practical approach to problem solving;
- be able to make efficient use of funds and materials in order to achieve structural goals;
- general construction design activities;
- experience in same industry would be desirable.